MITCHELL ETESS

CHIEF EXECUTIVE OFFICER/GOVERNOR

In his 10th year as CEO of the Connecticut Sun, Mitchell Grossinger Etess oversees team operations on behalf of the Mohegan Tribe, representing the ownership in all matters pertaining to the day-to-day functioning of the franchise on both the administrative and basketball sides of the organization.

Born into a family of hoteliers, Etess brings literally a lifetime of experience in the hospitality industry to his role as Chief Executive Officer of the Mohegan Tribal Gaming Authority (MTGA). Etess joined Mohegan Sun as a member of the pre-opening team in 1996 as Senior Vice President of Marketing, and was responsible for marketing, food and beverage, sports and entertainment, and hotel operations.

As Chief Executive Officer for the Mohegan Tribal Gaming Authority, Etess is responsible for the overall management and operation of MTGA's two main properties, Mohegan Sun in Connecticut and Mohegan Sun at Pocono Downs in Plains Township, Pennsylvania. Additionally, he evaluates the short- and long-term business planning and growth for Mohegan Tribal Gaming Authority and the Mohegan Tribe as well as business development efforts within the gaming and hospitality industries.

In 2004, Etess was promoted to President and CEO of Mohegan Sun, overseeing the overall management and operation of the Northeast's premier entertainment destination. In 2006, Etess was appointed CEO of the MTGA, assuming responsibility of the overall management and operation of Mohegan Sun and its sister entities, including Mohegan Sun at Pocono Downs – Pennsylvania's first slots casino and harness race track in Wilkes-Barre – and four off-track wagering facilities in Pennsylvania.

Before 1985, Etess worked in virtually every capacity at his family-owned Grossinger's Hotel in Grossinger, NY. It was here that Etess, raised at the hotel, received his early training in the hospitality industry.

A graduate of Columbia University, Etess resides in East Lyme with his wife Karen. They have two daughters, Piper and Maxie.

JEFFREY HARTMANN

CHIEF OPERATING OFFICER/ALTERNATE GOVERNOR

In his 10th year as COO of the Connecticut Sun, Jeffrey E. Hartmann is responsible for overseeing the team's finance department, monitoring all aspects of team finances and ensuring that all WNBA league financial reporting requirements are met.

In January of 2011, Hartmann assumed responsibility as the President and Chief Executive Officer of Mohegan Sun, leading the day-to-day operations of Mohegan Sun.

Hartmann previously held the position of Executive Vice President and Chief Operating Officer of the Mohegan Tribal Gaming Authority and Mohegan Sun from 2004-2010.

Prior to that, Hartmann was the Executive Vice President of Finance and Chief Financial Officer of Mohegan Sun from 1996-2004, supervising day-to-day management of the accounting, financial reporting to the Securities Exchange Commission and bondholder and bank relations.

Hartmann has 21 years of experience in the casino and hotel industry. Prior to joining the Mohegan Tribal Gaming Authority, he served as Vice President of Finance at Foxwoods Management Company from August 1991 until December of 1996. A certified public accountant, Hartmann was employed by PricewaterhouseCoopers, LLP, as an Audit Manager, from 1984 to 1991.

A graduate of Rutgers University, Hartmann resides in Old Lyme with his wife Marisa and their four children.

RAYMOND PINEAULT

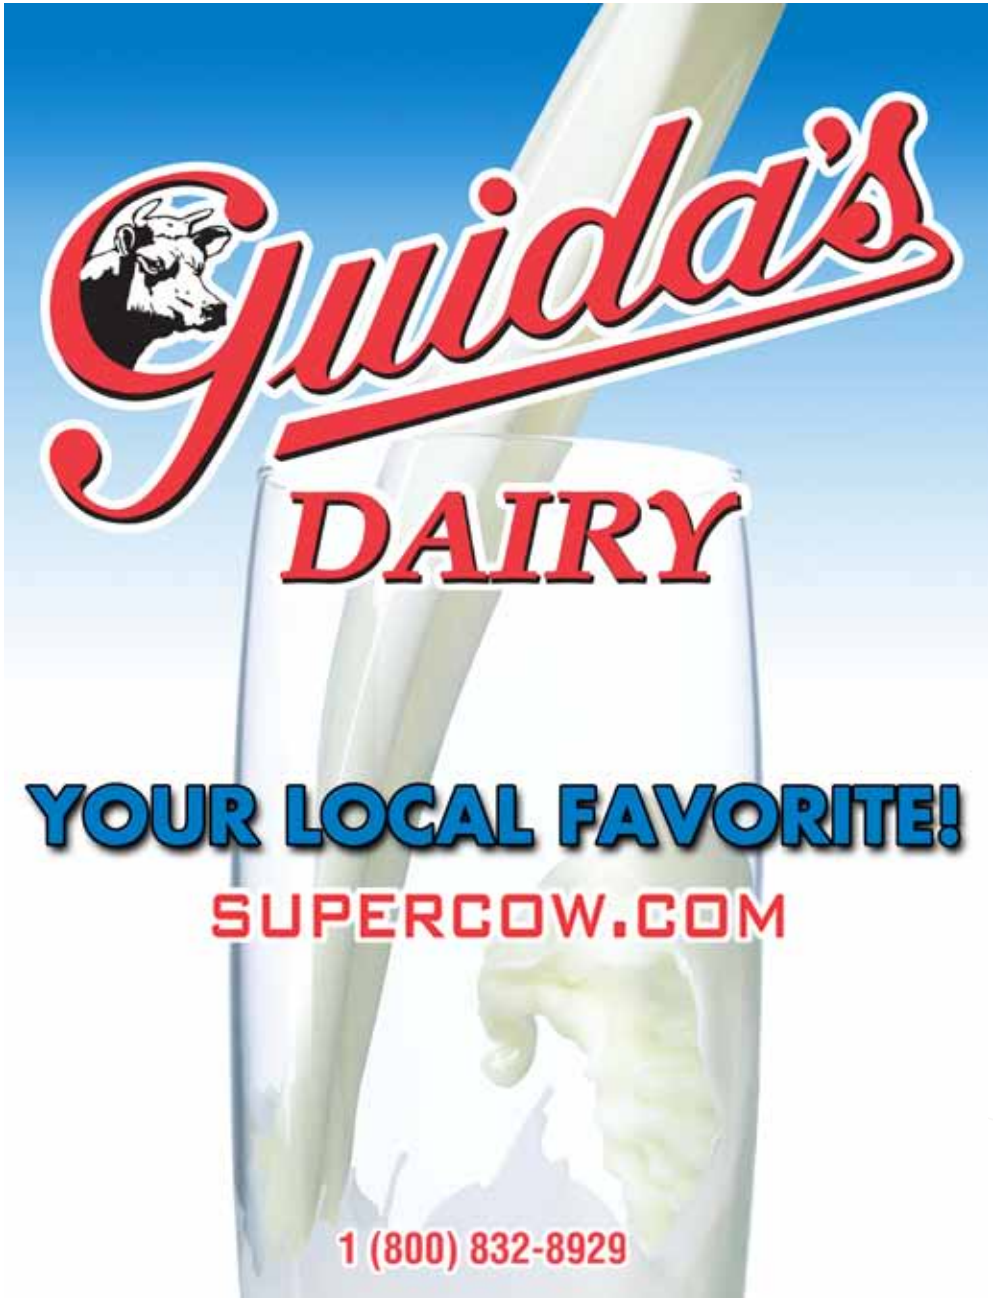
ALTERNATE GOVERNOR

In his second season as the Alternate Governor for the Connecticut Sun, Pineault is a Mohegan Tribal member who also serves as the Executive Vice President and Chief Operating Officer of Mohegan Sun, managing and overseeing all areas outside of marketing.

Pineault has been with the Mohegan Tribe and Mohegan Sun since March 2001, serving as a Senior Staff Attorney for the Tribe, where he was responsible for managing the legal issues associated with all commercial transactions of the Tribe and Mohegan Sun. He also negotiated and drafted agreements related to business opportunities and consulted with the Mohegan Tribal Gaming Authority (MTGA) on security issues, including financial reporting and debt financing.

Pineault has provided legal services to several of the Mohegan Tribe's departments and entities, including the housing authority, utility authority, planning development, information systems and finance departments, as well as Little People, LLC, and Crow Hill Properties. Pineault also serves as a management board member of Mohegan Information Technology Group, LLC, a subsidiary majority owned by the Tribe.

Pineault holds a Bachelor of Arts in psychology from the University of Connecticut as well as a law degree from Quinnipiac College School of Law. He resides in Glastonbury with his wife and three children.



CHRIS SIENKO

VICE PRESIDENT AND GENERAL MANAGER

Beginning his 10th season with the Connecticut Sun, Chris Sienko is the Vice President and General Manager, directing the business and basketball operations for one of the most successful franchises in the WNBA. As part of his day-to-day responsibilities, Sienko also oversees Sponsorship and Regional Marketing on behalf of Mohegan Sun.

Working closely with Connecticut Sun coach Mike Thibault, Sienko has been extremely aggressive during each offseason, using trades and free agent signings to build a team that has been a perennial contender, qualifying for the playoffs in seven of its nine seasons since relocating from Orlando following the 2002 WNBA season. Connecticut Sun finished 21-13 last year, tied for the best record in the Eastern Conference, and it set a franchise record with 15 home wins.

Following a subpar 2009 campaign, Sienko worked with Thibault to re-tool the Connecticut Sun roster, using a series of trades and signings to change the makeup of the team. The centerpiece of this reconstruction project was a blockbuster trade in January that brought Renee Montgomery and the No. 1 pick in the 2010 WNBA Draft to Connecticut in exchange for Lindsay Whalen and the No. 2 pick. The Connecticut Sun used the No. 1 pick to select UCONN star Tina Charles, who set new WNBA records for total rebounds and double-doubles on the way to Rookie-of-the-Year honors. Unrestricted free agent Kara Lawson was also added in the offseason to help solidify the backcourt while veteran forward DeMya Walker was picked in the Sacramento dispersal draft.

Thirteen of the 15 trades in franchise history have happened while Sienko has been the GM of the Connecticut Sun. Previous trades have netted Margo Dydek, Asjha Jones, and Lindsay Whalen.

Sienko was charged with overseeing a hectic transition period that began when the Mohegan Tribe purchased the Orlando Miracle on January 28, 2003. In the days between that announcement and the Connecticut Sun's first preseason game against the New York Liberty, Sienko traded for Connecticut icon Rebecca Lobo, hired coach Mike Thibault and the rest of the Connecticut Sun front office staff, helped negotiate the team's radio and television contracts and managed all of the other day-to-day business functions of the franchise, including player contracts and personnel moves for the team. In addition to his role as GM for the Connecticut Sun at that time, Sienko was concurrently directing all sporting events for the property, including boxing, wrestling, college and professional basketball, bowling, billiards, and more.

Sienko was the impetus behind the creation of the Connecticut Sun Foundation, a not-for-profit founded in 2007. The Foundation has awarded Bright Horizons Scholarships to deserving Connecticut high school seniors, and it helps high-risk individuals in our community. He has served on the board of the Foundation since its inception.

Sienko sits on several different committees for the WNBA including the Competition Committee, Rules and Regulations, Marketing, Advertising, and Sponsorship committees. He is also on an advisory committee, made up of all the COOs in the league.

Prior to joining Mohegan Sun, Sienko was an integral part in the start up of another professional sports team, the ABL's New England Blizzard, where he served as Vice President of Marketing, then General Manager. He also was President of the Arthur Robert Group, a small advertising agency in Connecticut for eight years, as well as Vice President of Marketing for thePit.com, which was successfully sold to Topps, Inc. in 2000.

Sienko is a graduate of the University of Connecticut.

MIKE THIBAULT

HEAD COACH

Named head coach of the Connecticut Sun on March 7, 2003 following a four-year stint as an assistant with the Milwaukee Bucks, Mike Thibault is currently the longest-tenured coach in the WNBA. Beginning his 10th season, he has more wins than any active coach, compiling an overall record of 181-125 with a .591 winning percentage. A two-time WNBA Coach of the Year, he stands second in career wins behind former Houston Comets coach Van Chancellor (211), and will tie Chancellor's league record for consecutive years of service with the same team this summer.

Thibault needs 19 wins to become just the second coach in WNBA history to reach 200. In 2007, he became the third fastest coach in league history to reach 100 wins, achieving that milestone in just 159 games, on July 22nd. He is the fourth WNBA head coach to work at least 300 regular season games.

From 2003 through 2008, Connecticut Sun won 127 regular season games, tied with Detroit for the most victories in that six-year span. Connecticut and Sacramento were the only teams to have six straight winning seasons during that time while Connecticut, Sacramento, and Detroit were the only teams to reach every postseason. Connecticut Sun's 26-8 records in 2005 and 2006 are still the two best marks ever posted by Eastern Conference teams.

In 2011, Thibault led Connecticut Sun to the playoffs for the seventh time in nine seasons, guiding the Sun to a 21-13 record. That was tied for the best mark in the Eastern Conference. The Connecticut Sun also set a new franchise record for regular season home wins, posting a 15-2 mark at Mohegan Sun Arena, including a 7-0 start at home. The Connecticut Sun is 40-11 over the last three years in its building.

Statistically, the Connecticut Sun averaged 80.1 points per game, narrowly missing the franchise scoring record of 81.0 set in 2010. Connecticut Sun also set a new team record for three-point shooting percentage (.363) while surpassing 200 made threes for the fourth straight year. Second-year center Tina Charles set a new franchise scoring record, averaging 17.6 points per game on the way to her second straight All Star game while third-year point guard Renee Montgomery earned her first All Star appearance.

In 2010, the Connecticut Sun finished 17-17, narrowly missing the playoffs. Charles earned Rookie of the Year honors while Kelsey Griffin was named to the All Rookie Team, but Connecticut Sun's momentum was disrupted when starting guard Anete Jekabsone-Zogota missed 15 games with a knee injury. Star forward Asjha Jones also got off to a slow start, missing the first four games of the season while recovering from ankle surgery.

Following a disappointing 2009 season in which the Sun missed the playoffs for the first time in seven years with a 16-18 record, Thibault overhauled his roster. He started by selecting veteran forward DeMya Walker in the Sacramento Monarchs dispersal draft, then signed free agent guard Kara Lawson. That was followed by a blockbuster trade that sent point guard Lindsay Whalen and the No. 2 pick in the 2010 WNBA Draft to Minnesota in exchange for second-year guard Renee Montgomery and the No. 1 pick in 2010. The Connecticut Sun used the No. 1 pick to select Charles, and also executed a draft day swap with Minnesota that netted Griffin with the No. 3 pick in the draft. The selection of Kansas star Danielle McCray with the No. 7 pick in the first round completed a memorable day that instantly transformed the Connecticut Sun lineup.

Trading Whalen was a typically bold move for Thibault. Thirteen of the 15 trades in franchise history have been made during his tenure, including the deal that originally enabled the Connecticut Sun to draft Whalen with the fourth overall pick in the 2004 WNBA Draft. Asjha Jones and Margo Dydek are other notable players brought to Connecticut through trades.

Named WNBA Coach of the Year for the second time in his career in 2008, Thibault led the third-youngest team in the league to 21 victories, a sixth straight winning season and a sixth straight berth in the playoffs. Connecticut's youth, combined with the offseason departure of veteran All Stars Katie Douglas, Nykesha Sales, and Margo Dydek led to predictions the Connecticut Sun would struggle in 2008. Instead, the team jumped out to an 8-1 start, matching its best record over the first nine games of a season in franchise history. Connecticut Sun was the last team in the league to lose on the road, the last to lose two games in a row, and the first to qualify for the playoffs, earning a spot in the postseason with a win at Atlanta on August 29th.

Despite starting two rookies in 28 of 34 games in 2008, the Connecticut Sun established what were then records for total points (2,690), scoring average (79.1 ppg.), made threes (221) and three-point shooting percentage (33.0). Eleven different players, including five rookies, started at least one game for the Connecticut Sun in 2008. A total of 14 players – Connecticut Sun added Erin Phillips and Svetlana Abrosimova to the roster following the Olympic break – logged minutes.

Thibault's accomplishments were particularly impressive considering he was in the midst of completing a commitment to USA Basketball that began in February of 2006, when he was named an assistant coach on the staff of Anne Donovan. Thibault helped the USA Women's Basketball team win the bronze medal at the World Championships in Sao Paolo, Brazil in September of 2007, and the gold medal at the Summer Olympic Games in Beijing in August of 2008.

In 2007, Connecticut Sun battled through an uncharacteristically streaky season that included a stretch of eight losses in nine games followed by 10 wins in 11 games. The Connecticut Sun bounced back from a 6-11 start to finish 18-16 before dropping a thrilling three-game playoff series to the Indiana Fever.

In 2006, Thibault earned his first Coach of the Year Award after leading Connecticut Sun to its second straight 26-8 season, its third straight Eastern Conference regular season title and its fourth straight trip to the Eastern Conference Finals.

During the 2005 and 2006 seasons, Connecticut Sun was 52-16 (.764) in the regular season. Only Los Angeles and Houston have ever won more games in consecutive seasons. The Connecticut Sun won 12 straight games from July 16-August 9 of 2006, the third longest winning streak in league history. Ten of those wins came without Nykesha Sales, who was out with an Achilles tendon injury. The Connecticut Sun was 11-1 overall without Sales, and also went 2-0 without Taj McWilliams-Franklin.

In 2005, Thibault guided the Connecticut Sun to a 26-8 mark that included a remarkable 13-1 record against the Western Conference. Connecticut Sun's 12-2 start over 14 games was one of the quickest in WNBA history, topped only by Houston's 13-1 start in 1998. The Connecticut Sun clinched its second straight Eastern Conference regular season title with five games remaining on their schedule. Not since 2001 had a team won as many regular season games as Connecticut Sun did in 2005.

Connecticut Sun went on to repeat as Eastern Conference Champions, sweeping Detroit and Indiana before falling to Sacramento in the WNBA Finals, the first playoff series in league history played under a best-of-five format.

In 2004, Thibault led a Connecticut Sun team that was a near-unanimous preseason pick to finish last to within one made basket of a WNBA championship. After finishing first in the Eastern Conference during the regular season for the first time in franchise history, the Connecticut Sun beat Washington and New York for their first Eastern Conference Championship. Connecticut Sun won the first game of the WNBA Championship series with Seattle before eventually falling in three games.

Connecticut Sun's 2004 run was surprising to some because Thibault had rebuilt the team following a 2003 run to the Eastern Conference Finals. Concluding the Connecticut Sun needed to get younger and more athletic, Thibault carried five rookies on the 2004 roster, lowering the average age of his team from 28.4 to 24.2. Among those rookies was Whalen, who averaged more than 30 minutes per game as the starting point guard.

The Connecticut Sun also excelled despite losing starting forward Brooke Wyckoff to a season-ending knee injury on May 3, 2004. Wyckoff and the five other veterans who did not return to the team averaged a combined 30 points, 13.5 rebounds and 7.6 assists per game in 2003.

In 2003, Thibault inherited a squad that had never finished above .500. He guided his first team to an 18-16 record and the first playoff series win in franchise history, a sweep of the favored Charlotte Sting.

Thibault entered the NBA ranks in 1978 as a scout for the Los Angeles Lakers, and was promoted to director of scouting and assistant coach in 1980. The Lakers won two World Championships (1980, 1982) during his tenure. From 1982-1986, he was an assistant coach and director of scouting for the Chicago Bulls during a period when the franchise drafted Michael Jordan and Charles Oakley, while also acquiring John Paxson.

From 1987-88 Thibault was the general manager and head coach of the Calgary 88's of the World Basketball League (WBL), earning WBL Coach of the Year honors in 1988.

In 1989, Thibault began a remarkable eight-year run as general manager and head coach of CBA's Omaha Racers. The Racers made the playoffs each season (1989-97) under his watch, bringing home a CBA title in 1993, and a return to the finals in 1994. Thibault was named 1993 Sportsman of the Year by the Omaha sportscasters, and ranks sixth on the CBA all-time coaching victory list (236).

In March of 1995, he coached the silver medal winning USA National Team at the Pan American Games, and in August of 1993, he served as head coach of the gold medal-winning USA National Team at the World Championship Qualifying Tournament in Puerto Rico.

He spent the 1997-98 season as a scout for the Seattle Sonics.

Mike and his wife Nanci are active participants in the community, and have been staunch supporters of the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation since Mike's days with the Omaha Racers. In 2007, the Thibaults were co-chairs of GREAT STRIDES, the primary fundraiser of the CF Foundation's Connecticut Chapter. Mike and Nanci have two children. Eric is a graduate of the University of Missouri, and a graduate assistant coach for the St. John's women's basketball team. He has also been an assistant to the Connecticut Sun coaching staff. Carly is attending Monmouth University on a basketball scholarship.

SCOTT HAWK

ASSISTANT COACH

Beginning his 10th season as an assistant coach with the Connecticut Sun, Scott Hawk works primarily with the team's post players, and is also responsible for preparing game plans, and scouting opponents and college players.

In 2011, second-year center Tina Charles was a leading contender for WNBA MVP after setting a league record with 23 double-doubles. The Rookie of the Year in 2010, Charles led the league in rebounding for the second straight season. Veteran forward Asjha Jones had a career-high 217 rebounds for Connecticut Sun, which ranked third in total rebounds last season.

Ranked 13th in rebound percentage, 14th in total rebounds, 14th in defensive rebounds and 11th in offensive rebounds in 2003, Connecticut Sun steadily improved under Hawk's guidance, finishing the 2006 season ranking first in total defensive rebounds and second in total rebounds. Connecticut Sun has continued to be one of the top rebounding teams in the league, even as new players have been rotated into the starting frontcourt.

Hired on March 27, 2003, Hawk brought more than 20 years of experience coaching men's and women's basketball to the Connecticut Sun staff. Beginning in 1980, Hawk worked as a teacher, head coach and assistant in some of Nebraska's top high school programs, including Omaha Cathedral, Bellevue West, Plattsmouth and his alma mater, Omaha Creighton Prep. Hawk guided his teams to a pair of Nebraska state championships, and he was twice named Coach of the Year.

Hawk also served as a Director of the Omaha Crusaders, a 501 C3 non-profit corporation created to benefit young people in Nebraska and western Iowa that also happens to be the parent organization of one of the largest high school summer basketball programs in Nebraska. Hawk earned a Bachelor of Science degree from the University of Nebraska (Omaha).

He lives in Connecticut with his daughters Maggie and Clare.

BERNADETTE MATTOX

ASSISTANT COACH

Beginning her 10th season as an assistant coach with the Connecticut Sun, Bernadette Mattox works primarily with the team's wing players, and is also responsible for preparing game plans as well as scouting opponents and college players.

Connecticut was once again among the top teams in the league in assist-to-turnover ratio, ranking third with a 1.31 average during the 2011 season. Third-year guard Renee Montgomery enjoyed a career year in 2011, earning her first All Star selection while collecting a career-high 167 assists. Montgomery and Kara Lawson combined for 263 assists and a 1.95 assist-to-turnover ratio. In 2010, Lawson and Montgomery became the second backcourt tandem in franchise history to rack up 100 assists each in a season.

Under the tutelage of Mattox, former Connecticut Sun point guard Lindsay Whalen emerged as an All Star, collecting a franchise-record 964 career assists in six seasons at Connecticut. She was just the second player in WNBA history to average at least 10 points, five assists and five rebounds in a season, accomplishing that in 2008. In 2007, Whalen and Katie Douglas became the first backcourt tandem in franchise history to each compile 100 assists in a season.

Hired by head coach Mike Thibault on March 27, 2003, Mattox brought 18 years of Division I and international coaching experience with her when she accepted an assistant coaching position with the Connecticut Sun. Prior to her arrival in Connecticut, Mattox made NCAA history when she became the first female to serve as a Division I assistant for a men's team, beginning a four-year stint under coach Rick Pitino at Kentucky in 1990. During the four seasons Mattox was on Pitino's staff, the Wildcats were 108-24 with a Final Four appearance in 1993. She also served as an assistant athletic director at UK from 1994-95.

In 1995, Mattox became the first African American to coach the Kentucky Women's basketball program, guiding the Wildcats for eight seasons. During her tenure as UK's head coach, she led the Wildcats to an NCAA Tournament berth in 1999. She also served as an assistant coach on the 1998 USA Basketball Women's World Championship team, which posted a 9-0 record on the way to winning the Gold Medal in Germany.

Mattox graduated from the University of Georgia, where she earned the program's first All-American designation in 1979-80, averaging 20.6 points, 4.6 assists and 4.2 steals per game as a junior. Mattox was also the first player in Georgia women's basketball history to earn Academic All-American honors, and she finished her career averaging 15 points per game. She went on to work as an assistant to Georgia head coach Andy Landers for five years. In 2010, she was inducted into the Circle of Honor, the UGA Athletic Association's all-sports recognition program which is designed to recognize and pay tribute to extraordinary student-athletes and coaches who, by their performance and conduct, have brought honor to the University and themselves, and who by their actions have contributed to the tradition of the Georgia Bulldogs.

Mattox lives in Lexington, KY with her husband Vince and son Vincent.

JON WHITKIN

VIDEO COORDINATOR AND ADVANCE SCOUT

Jon Whitkin returns for his seventh season with the Connecticut Sun. Whitkin spent the 2011-2012 NBA season as an advance scout for the Cleveland Cavaliers, New Orleans Hornets, and Denver Nuggets after spending the 2010-2011 NBA season as a regional advance scout for the Cleveland Cavaliers and Reno Bighorns of the NBA Development League.

In addition to his advance scouting experience, Whitkin coached in the 2011 NBA Development League National Tryout Camps in Chicago and Louisville as well as for the Springfield Armor and Bakersfield Jam. He has also worked as a college scout for Marty Blake, Director of NBA Scouting, a position he's held since the 2007-2008 season. Whitkin worked with the New Jersey Nets as a basketball consultant focusing on defensive statistical analysis during the 2006-2007, 2007-2008, and 2008-2009 NBA seasons.

TEAM NOTES:

- With a two-game sweep over the Charlotte Sting in the Eastern Conference Semi-finals, the Connecticut Sun advances to the Eastern Conference Finals for the first time in franchise history.
- For the second straight year, Connecticut Sun players Shannon Johnson and Nykesha Sales represent the team in the WNBA All-Star Game. For Sales, it is her fifth-straight appearance in the All-Star Game.
- With Debbie Black and Shannon Johnson in the backcourt, the Connecticut Sun becomes just the third team in league history to have two guards with more than 500 career assists.
- On May 24, 2003, the Connecticut Sun openes the season at its new home, Mohegan Sun Arena, in Uncasville, CT. The Connecticut Sun loses the game, 82-73, to the defending champion Los Angeles Sparks in front of a sellout crowd.

HISTORY
On April 24, 1996, women's basketball announced "We Got Next" as the NBA Board of Governors approved the concept of a Women's National Basketball Association (WNBA) to begin play in June of 1997.

Since that day in 1996, there have been many firsts for the WNBA:

Val Ackerman – the first president of the WNBA

Sheryl Swoopes – the first player signed to the WNBA

Cynthia Cooper – the league's first Most Valuable Player

Houston Comets – the first WNBA Champions

Lisa Leslie – the first WNBA player to dunk (7/30/02 vs. Miami)

Lauren Jackson – the first international player to win MVP (2007)

Candace Parker – the first rookie to earn the league's MVP honor (2008)

Sylvia Fowles – the first goaltending call (6/3/2008 vs. LA)

The inaugural WNBA season tipped off on June 21, 1997, with the New York Liberty taking on the Los Angeles Sparks at the Great Western Forum in Inglewood, California. A crowd of 14,284 watched as Sparks' guard Penny Toler scored the first basket in WNBA history. The Liberty defeated the Sparks, 67-57.

A GROWING GAME
The influence of the WNBA can be seen in the explosive growth of organized women's basketball over the past 12 seasons. An estimated 100 million women play basketball worldwide, and our league reflects this trend, featuring 20 international players from 13 countries and territories at the end of the 2010 season. Female AAU youth basketball participation has increased 277 percent since 1991 (from 28,840 to 108,758 players). Female high school basketball participation has increased 17 percent since 1991 (from 387,802 to 456,967 players). And female NCAA basketball participation has increased 43 percent since 1991 (from 10,551 to 15,096 players).

ALL-STAR GAME
The San Antonio Silver Stars and the AT&T Center will host the 2011 WNBA All-Star Game in San Antonio on Saturday, July 23, 2011.

In place of the All-Star Game last season, the league hosted a special event, "WNBA vs. USA Basketball: The Stars at the Sun" at Mohegan Sun Arena in Uncasville, Connecticut on July 10, 2010. The event showcased the world's best female basketball players under one roof and helped the USA Basketball Women's National Team prepare for the upcoming FIBA World Championship that fall. The USAB squad, featuring 10 WNBA players and one collegian, defeated a team of WNBA stars 99-72. Sylvia Fowles of the Chicago Sky and playing for USAB, earned game MVP honors. University of Connecticut's Geno Auriemma coached the U.S. squad while Seattle Storm Head Coach Brian Agler led the WNBA team.

The first WNBA All-Star Game was held in New York at Madison Square Garden in 1999. The Garden also hosted the event in 2003 and in 2006. Washington's Verizon Center (2002, 2007) is the other venue to host the game multiple times. Other All-Star Games were played in Phoenix (2000), Orlando (2001) and at the Mohegan Sun Arena in Uncasville, Connecticut (2009). Due to the Olympics, no All-Star Game was held in 2004 and 2008, although Radio City Music Hall in New York City was the site of an exhibition game on August 5, 2004, as the U.S. National Team, comprised mainly of WNBA greats, faced a squad of WNBA All-Stars in "WNBA vs. USA Basketball: The Game at Radio City."

INSPIRING COACH

The Inspiring Coach Award is an annual honor introduced in 2007 to recognize coaches who have positively influenced athletes across numerous levels and whose achievements leave an indelible mark on sports as a whole. The University of Connecticut's Geno Auriemma earned the honor in 2010 for his profound impact on female athletes and his demonstrated commitment, passion, and dedication to work, family, and community. Previous winners include Pat Summit, Kay Yow, and Jody Conradt.

INSPIRING WOMEN

The Inspiring Woman Award is an annual honor that celebrates an individual who, on a daily basis, demonstrates her ability to inspire others through her commitment, passion and dedication to work, family, and community. Past honorees include U.S. Ambassador to the United Nations Susan Rice (2010), Emmy-award winning journalist Cokie Roberts (2009), Good Morning America's Robin Roberts (2008), Secretary of State Condoleezza Rice (2007), and the WNBA All-Decade Team (2006).

DAWN STALEY AWARD

The Dawn Staley Community Leadership Award was announced in 2006 and is now presented annually to the player who best exemplifies the characteristics of a leader in the community and reflects Staley's contagious leadership, spirit, charitable efforts and love for the game. Winners include Chamique Holdsclaw (2009), Tamika Raymond (2008), and Tamika Catchings (2007). A member of the WNBA's All-Decade Team, Staley, who retired following the 2006 season, established herself as one of the greatest ambassadors in women's basketball history, while also demonstrating outstanding leadership qualities as a coach on the collegiate level and as a philanthropist and humanitarian.

MARKETING

The WNBA maintains marketing, promotional, and media partnerships with a variety of top companies, each with varying levels of activation and integration in league operations.

Marketing and Promotional Partners: adidas, American Express, Bacardi, BBVA, CieAura, Coca-Cola, EA, Gatorade, General Mills/ Wheaties, Hayworth, HP, InterContinental Hotels Group (IHG) Hotels, Jamba Juice, NewTek, Nike, Panasonic, Pepperidge Farm, Russell Athletic, Sanofi Aventis, Sanofi Pasteur, Spalding, T-Mobile.

Media Partners: USA Today, Parenting Group, Essence, Heart & Soul.

The WNBA's marketing partners utilize the league to support women's sports and reach its strong fanbase of women, families, and young girls through advertising in WNBA nationally televised games, national promotions, player endorsements, and special events.

The WNBA has an extensive, highly integrated relationship with adidas. The sporting goods and apparel giant not only serves as the official outfitter of the WNBA – having unveiled new uniforms across the league in 2007 and again in 2011 – but also served as the presenter of the WNBA Draft since 2007. In 2008 adidas became the first-ever presenting partner of the WNBA's entire postseason, including both the Playoffs and Finals.

Five WNBA teams have entered the league's Marquee Partnership program, which includes multiyear deals featuring branded sponsorship of game jerseys – the Phoenix Mercury partnering with LifeLock, the Los Angeles Sparks with Farmers Insurance Group, the Seattle Storm with Microsoft search engine Bing, the New York Liberty with Foxwoods Resort Casino, and the Washington Mystics with Inova Health System.

ATTENDANCE/TV RATINGS

The WNBA concluded the 2010 regular season with its fourth consecutive year of increased attendance. Postseason attendance increased for the third consecutive year, finishing up 36 percent over 2009.

For Games 2 and 3 of the 2010 WNBA Finals presented by adidas, average viewership on ESPN2 jumped 15 percent from 2009 and 79 percent from 2008.

The WNBA has one of the top five Facebook fanbases among sports leagues, with more than 318,000 fans (www.Facebook.com/wnba).

The WNBA's broadcast coverage in 2010 included more than 30 live national telecasts of regular-season and postseason contests on ESPN2 and ABC, and another 40-plus games on NBA TV, as well as games streamed on ESPN360.com.

The WNBA's broadcast coverage in 2011 will include 70 high-definition regular-season, Playoff, and Finals games on ESPN2, ABC and NBA TV. In addition, all WNBA games are available online via WNBA LiveAccess unless: (a) They are televised on ABC or ESPN2 – in which case they stream live on ESPN3.com and are later archived to WNBA.com, or (b) They are televised at the same time a game is televised on ABC or ESPN2 – in which case they stream live on ESPN3.com and are later archived to WNBA.com.

In July 2007, the WNBA signed a new, eight-year TV deal with ESPN that tipped off in 2009 and runs through 2016, the WNBA's 20th season. The agreement, which calls for ABC, ESPN, and ESPN2 to telecast WNBA games, includes rights fees, a first for any women's pro team sports league in the U.S.

GLOBAL REACH

Now in its second decade, the WNBA has a wide impact on overseas markets. In 2010, for the fourth straight year, WNBA games and programming reached a record 203 countries in 32 languages, surpassing the previous total of 198 countries. In addition, for the fifth consecutive year, fans around the globe are able to view WNBA action via live Webcasts on WNBA.com.

At the conclusion of the 2010 regular season, WNBA rosters featured 20 international players from 13 countries and territories. Among the league's international contingent were the league's MVP, Seattle Storm forward/center Lauren Jackson (Australia), the Indiana Fever's Tammy Sutton-Brown (Canada), the San Antonio Silver Stars' Sophia Young (St. Vincent), and the Los Angeles Sparks' Ticha Penicheiro (Portugal). They will be joined in 2011 by Tulsa's Elizabeth Cambage (Australia), whom the Shock selected with the No. 2 overall pick in the 2011 Draft.

WNBA DRAFT

The 2011 WNBA Draft presented by adidas took place on April 11 at ESPN headquarters in Bristol, Connecticut. It marked the first professional sports league draft held on the ESPN campus. The Minnesota Lynx selected University of Connecticut's Maya Moore as the top overall pick. The Tulsa Shock selected Elizabeth Cambage second, the Chicago Sky tabbed Courtney Vandersloot third, the Lynx chose Amber Harris fourth, and the Los Angeles Sparks took Jantel Lavender fifth to round out the first five selections.

OWNERSHIP

Six WNBA teams now fall under the independent ownership model: the Atlanta Dream, Chicago Sky, Connecticut Sun, Los Angeles Sparks, Seattle Storm, and Tulsa Shock.

With the announcement on October 20, 2009 that the Detroit Shock would relocate to Tulsa, Oklahoma, Tulsa Pro Hoops L.L.C. began play in 2010. Force 10 Hoops, L.L.C., the entity owned by Seattle businesswomen and civic leaders Anne Levinson, Ginny Gilder, Lisa Brummel, and Dawn Trudeau, purchased the Seattle Storm on February 28, 2008. In October, 2009, Kathy Betty purchased the Atlanta Dream. In addition, the Los Angeles Sparks opened the 2007 season with new ownership after Kathy Goodman and Carla Christofferson, two long-time season ticket holders, bought the Sparks on December 7, 2006. They joined Michael Alter's Chicago Sky, and the Mohegan Tribe's Connecticut Sun as independently owned WNBA franchises.

Entering the 2011 season, 10 women serve as owners of WNBA teams: Dr. Sheila Johnson (Washington Mystics); Kathy Goodman and Carla Christofferson (Los Angeles Sparks); Kathy Betty, Mary Brock, and Kelly Loeffler (Atlanta); and Dawn Trudeau, Ginny Gilder, and Lisa Brummel (Seattle Storm). A 10th, musical artist Michelle Williams, formerly of "Destiny's Child," is a minority owner of the Chicago Sky.

Dr. Sheila Johnson, a co-founder of Black Entertainment Television, became the WNBA's first African-American female owner on May 24, 2005 when she joined Ted Leonsis' Lincoln Holdings LLC, which in turn purchased the Washington Mystics from Washington Wizards' owner Abe Pollin.

KEY HIGHLIGHTS

In 2010, Tina Thompson of the Los Angeles Sparks became the all-time scoring leader with 6,413 points, surpassing her former teammate, Lisa Leslie (6,263) who retired following the 2009 season.

Tina Charles won the 2010 WNBA Rookie of the Year award after averaging 15.5 ppg, 11.7 rpg, and 1.7 bpg, while also setting league records for most total rebounds (398) and doubles-doubles (22) in a single season.

Lauren Jackson won the 2010 WNBA MVP award presented by Kia Motors and also took home 2010 WNBA Finals MVP honors. Lisa Leslie of the Los Angeles Sparks became the first – and only – WNBA player to capture the regular-season, All-Star, and Finals MVP awards during the same season (2001).

Jackson also became the third player to earn WNBA MVP honors three times (2003, 2007, 2010), joining the Sparks' Lisa Leslie (2001, 2004, 2006) and the Houston Comets' Sheryl Swoopes (2000, 2002, 2005). Houston's Cynthia Cooper earned the award twice (1997, 1998). The others to capture MVP honors are the Sacramento Monarchs' Yolanda Griffith (1999), the Sparks' Candace Parker (2008, when she became the first rookie in league history to earn the award), and the Phoenix Mercury's Diana Taurasi (2009).

Candace Parker became the first WNBA player to win Rookie of the Year and Most Valuable Player in the same season (2008).
